U. S. PLEA SENT TO LEAGUE

Congressman Mason Asks Aid In Removal of British Bar to American Probers Wishing to Visit Ireland— Clash In London Expected Today

WASHINGTON.—(By Associated Press)—Representative Mason, of Illinois, made public a telegram sent by him to Paul Hymans, president of the league of nations, appealing for support of the league in the effort of the commission of the committee of one hundred investigating the Irish question to send a special investigating body to Ireland. Passports issued by the state department to members of the investigating committee have been refused a visa by the British embassy.

Representative Mason, in his telegram, declared that "in the present instance the league of nations is afforded an extraordinary opportunity to prove to Americans its freedom from British domination, by inducing the British government to permit the Rumanian Capital Takes Precaution Following Bomb Blast.

PARIS.—The capital of Rumania is under martial law, according to an official announcement at the Rumanian legation here late Friday night. This step was a result of disorders in the city, which culminated on Thursday in the explosion of a time bomb placed beneath the speakers' throne of the Rumanian senate. The infernal machine was set to explode soon after the senate opened its daily session.

Bishop Radou, a member of the senate, was killed and General Coanda, president of the assembly; M. Graciano, minister of justice; Senator Bishop Nifon and two other members of the body, were among the wounded. M. Graciano was dangerously hurt and may die.

TO HONOR COLBY

Brazil Prepares Welcome to Secretary of State.

RIO JANEIRO.—Brazil will accord Bainbridge Colby, American secretary of state, the same honors that were given Elihu Root, when in 1906 he visited this country as head of the Roosevelt cabinet. This was decided upon in the Brazilian senate Saturday when a resolution was approved at the instance of Senator Mendes de Almeida.

In speaking on his resolution, the senior character of Mr. Colby's visit as a great importance to Brazil's international relations.

A committee of five to welcome Mr. Colby has been appointed by the president of the senate, and during the secretary's stay in this city, he will be received by the Senate at a special session.

'SHORT ROAD' FOR FARMER USED

Closer Link With Consumer Advocated by Meredith.

WOULD INSURE FAIR PRICES'

Secretary Reports on Nation's Agricultural Situation.

WASHINGTON.—(By Associated Press) — American farmers face a situation due to falling prices for farm products which should be dealt with as a national problem, Secretary Mcredditt declared in his first annual report made public. On November 1, prices were 33 per cent below those prevailing at planting time, the Secretary of Agriculture said.

"The road between the producer and the consumer should be kept open and made shorter," the report said, "to insure fair prices and that the consumer will be able to buy with only 'reasonable' profits attached to the original selling price. Co-operative marketing undoubtedly affords an opportunity to shorten the channel between producer and consumer," the Secretary said, as well as opportunity to reduce the cost of production by use of governmental information as to marketing, grading, etc.

The farmers of America "have again justified the faith of the nation to meet its requirements," Mr. Meredith declared, and have produced crops estimated to be worth $13,300,000,000 this year. The combined yield of the ten principal crops was 13 per cent above the average for five years.

The corn crop of 3,193,000,000 bushels in unprecedentedly representing about four-fifths of the world's production, the report said. The sweet potato crop of 103,000,000 bushels is far in excess of any other year except 1919, while the rice crop of 5,000,000 bushels is one-fourth greater than the largest crop ever before harvested. Tobacco production of 1,476,000,000 pounds, the sugar beet crop of 149,000,000 bushels and the potato crop of 421,000,000 bushels stand out at high marks while the apple production of 235,000,000 bushels has been exceeded only once.

"The year's output, produced at an abnormally high cost," the Sec-

Harding Wants Solid Backing on Association Idea.

Confers With Hoover Tomorrow on the Question.

MARION.—(By Associated Press)

Suggestions for a new American foreign policy, including the formation of an association of nations, were heard by President-elect Harding Saturday from Colonel George Harvey, who was one of his close advisers in formulating his campaign policies toward the Versailles League.

Colonel Harvey came to Marion Friday and in addition to holding long conversations on the subject with the president-elect Saturday, it was said he might remain until next week to give his advice as the administration program develops.

NO DEFINITE PLAN

Mr. Harding has indicated that even the groundwork for the association of nations is yet to be laid, and that he begins his promised "meeting of minds" here without a definite plan even on rudimentary forms, for an international council. In asking advice he will seek a program behind which there is some assurance of an united country, rather than an attempt to put forward any specification of his own.

HOOVER ARRIVES SATURDAY

In that connection it is recalled that when he first proposed an association of nations in his speech of Aug. 28, he suggested that if he builded on the framework of The Hague Tribunal or upon the practicable features of the Versailles League, or by

Six More Jurists to Help Clear Docket In Chicago—Plans Made to Rush All Criminal Trials at Conference Held In the Windy City

CHICAGO.—Trial in the Criminal court within thirty days after an offense is committed, disposed of all old cases, efficient prosecutors, and swift and determined punishment for criminals were the ends sought by public officials who attended a conference in the office of William R. Parker, clerk of the Criminal court, here.

It was agreed that beginning January 17 six more judges will be assigned to hear criminal cases, making a total of fourteen, who will proceed to the task of disposing of the 3,045 indictments now pending. Of the total number of indictments, 641 are additional indictments. In all, 2,404 persons are awaiting trial.

It is estimated that it will take from ten months to a year to reduce the docket to a state where the present number of judges can keep up with the current indictments.

WILL SEEK GOOD LAWYERS

The conferees were State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe, his first assistant, Edward S. Day, Sheriff Charles W. Peters, Chief Justice Charles A. McDonald of the Criminal Court, Chief Justice Oscar M. Torrison of the Circuit Court, and Mr. Parker. They decided to request the Supreme Court to reassign the judges now sitting in the Appellate court to the Criminal court. They will ask the cooperation of the county board in appropriating for the additional clerks, bailiffs and assistant state's attorneys funds necessary by the additional courts.

Lend Aid and Voice to Plan for Removal of Poles.

WOULD BEAUTIFY STREETS

Resolutions Also Ask for Removal of Wires and Cables.

Resolutions in praise of the new boulevard lighting system were adopted at a meeting of the Lima chapter of the American association of engineers, in a regular session.

The association is composed of all engineers, civil, electrical, mechanical and chemical and also architects.

The resolutions also declare in favor of the removal of unsightly poles wires and cables from the business thoroughfares of the city, the association joining its voice and influence in aid of the campaign inaugurated by the Lima News for ridding downtown streets of a forest of poles.

Resolutions adopted read as follows:

HOW ENGINEERS STAND

Whereas, the City of Lima, Ohio, has constructed a boulevard lighting system and has completed plans to extend this system over the entire business district and parts of the residential section, and

Whereas, the Lima Chapter of the American association of engineers believes that the efficiency and beauty of the said lighting system is greatly reduced by the presence of unsightly wooden poles, and

Whereas, the present method of overhead wire and cable construction is a detriment to public safety and retards the development of any city; Therefore, be it

Resolved, that the Lima Chapter of the American association of engineers recommends that the necessary steps be taken to cause the removal of all the wires, cables, and wooden poles above ground within the corporate limits of the City of Lima, Ohio, with the exception of the trolley wires, guy wires, and metal poles of standard design necessary for the construction and maintenance of electric railways within the City; and be it further

Resolved, that a copy of this resolution be presented to the Council of the City of Lima.

COURT SUIT ECHOES SAD TRAGEDY

Light Company Appeals Judgment of Jury for $4,000.

The Northwestern Ohio Light company has appealed to Appellate court the case wherein judgment for $4,000 was decreed against them to Mrs. Gottschmidt Schmedebusch, Ottawa, in the Putnam co court of common pleas. Date of arguments has not been set.

The love and companionship of a husband and son lost to her thru a double tragedy, was valued by the Putnam co jury which heard the trial at $4,000, which they allowed Mrs. Schmedebusch. They returned their verdict Nov. 24.

It required one and one-half hours for the jurors to arrive at a decision, after hearing the testimony in the suit. She sued for $10,000.

More than a year ago, Mrs. Schmedebusch's son Edward, 13, was electrocuted, when he touched a guy wire on a pole in the field where he was looking after some cattle. A broken electric light wire, heavily charged, had fallen against the pole and charged the guy wire.

The boy fell and lay as asleep under two trees, known as Twin Elms. When his father, Frank Schmedebusch called him, there was no answer.

Unaware of the danger, the father laid his hand on the lad's body to arouse him, supporting himself by the guy wire. He, too, was electrocuted.

Mrs. Schmedebusch is administratrix of the estate of her husband.

STRIKING GILLILAN BRINGS GOOD MEASURE OF PLEASURE TO LIMA LYCEUM AUDIENCE

Strickland W. Gillilan, claimed to be the foremost humorist of America, made a big hit with the large audience at the third number of the Central Hi Lyceum course, Friday evening.

Gillilan came up to all expectations and tho he has been in Lima numerous times, his lecture was considered by many to be the best ever presented.

Gillilan's topic was "Be a Cheerful Optimist" and the subject was handled perfectly. His humor kept the audience laughing continually. His poems, stories and anecdotes are very clever.

If this talk, tho being humorous, taught a lesson to all who heard him, He believes in being an optimist, but not a cheerful idiot.

The large crowd was taken care of successfully under the new plan to insure the season ticket holders seats.

The lecture course is making a bigger hit with Lima this year than ever before and it is expected that plans for a bigger, better, course for next year will soon be started.

TRIO OF TRAIN RIDERS TAKEN; ONE IS FINED

Financial Institutions Fall In Line In Progressive Movement for Benefit of Christmas and Savings Club

Depositors

Tonight for the first time in the history of banking in Lima, the doors of all the leading financial institutions will swing wide to welcome Savings and Christmas club depositors.

Started by the First National and the Citizens Loan & Building company, all the other big banking houses dropped in line and announcements will be found from the first page of this paper to the last.

Chief of Police Roush is on the job and has assigned a triple detail of armed blue-coats and plainclothesmen to patrol the banking district between the hours of 2:30 and 8 p. m.

Bankers are not agreed on the plan, but admit that the psychological time to interest savings is when the people have the money in their hands. Canton, Dayton, Chicago and some other cities have adopted the Saturday Night Savings Bank plan, and the experiment will be watched here with much interest.

PAGEANT DEPICTS PILGRIM LIFE

Scenes and Incidents of Historic Nature at Central High.

An interesting and historical pageant commemorating the landing of the Pilgrims was given by the Junior High school of Central, Friday afternoon. The acting, dancing, and readings were excellent. A big feature was the excellent costuming.

There were over 100 students taking part in the pageant, which was one of the best ever presented at the high school.

Miss Foster, head of the English department, had charge of the presentation and was ably assisted by several of the Junior Hi teachers.

The audience was composed of the parents and friends of the students.

The first scene was in England, at the court of King Charles. The court fool was very clever. Several interesting dances were given before the king. The Pilgrims interrupt the scene and when they are not given religious freedom they leave for Holland.

Scenes of the Pilgrims leaving Holland and the landing in America, made a big hit with the large audience at the third number of the Central Hi Lyceum course, Friday evening.

The pageant ended with a reproduction of the first Thanksgiving dinner which was followed by a tableau of several patriotic scenes.

Principal characters of the pageant were: King Charles, Earl Fletcher; Queen, Frances Moseley; Priscilla Mullins, Charlotte Shorwood; Captain Miles Standish, Gray Knisely; Governor, Frank Cory; Elder Brewster, Ray Morse; Stephen Hopkins, Stephen Churchill; Mrs. Hopkins, Roma Welsh; Mrs. Billings, Otto Parmenter; Robert Cushman, George Townsend; Mary Clifton, Marian Yocom; Calendar, Paul Frysinger; Abraham Lincoln, Franklin Dorn.

NEW EXPERIENCE FOR "STRICK"

Gillilan, Famous Humorist, Barred From High School.

TOO MANY COULDN'T GET IN

Offenhauer's Ruling Provides Good Press Agent Stuff.

Strickland W. Gillilan, who delivered one of his most entertaining lectures in the Central High school course Friday night, had the most unusual experience while in the city ever given a lecturer.

Gillilan was scheduled to speak before the high school students Friday afternoon, but on his arrival, he was advised by Principal Offenhauer that he was forced to call off the extra attraction and not to come up.

THE REASON WHY

"Well," said Gillilan, "that is a new one; don't want me, eh?"

"Oh, not that," said the principal.

"See it is this way; we have already sold out for the Pilgrim's pageant; they can't all get seats now and if you speak here this afternoon, a hundred or more will try to get in and we do not wish to disappoint them." Gillilan laughed and sent the story on to his press-agent.

Prof. Offenhauer was right; at 7:30, a half hour before the entertainment was scheduled, every seat in the big auditorium was taken and standing room was in vogue.

While here, Mr. Gillilan was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Galvin at the Normal and dinner Friday night. William M. Page, of Marshall, Illinois, and Miss Marjorie Galvin, Jamestown, were additional guests. Mr. Gillilan left Saturday for Napoleon and has dates consecutively from now until April 10th. His writings are appearing as usual in the Ladies Home Journal and the Retail Ledger, of Philadelphia, and the famous author has a new book now in press, advance orders for which have already exceeded the original press-run.

Approximately 3,000 "bad spots" in city pavements have been remedied, according to a report of the street superintendent.

More is to be done, he says. Work will be continued thru the winter months when the weather conditions permit.

Lima Is Ohio's Wonder City

OVER ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND PEOPLE live within 25 miles of The News press rooms, and they are going in and out of stores here every day. They are all thrifty Americans, the salt of the Earth.

The railroads and traction lines have been the greatest factors in Lima's growth and development, and every property owner and resident of the city owes a debt of gratitude to the men who built these roads and brought them to their present state of efficiency.

Associated Press reports show 75,000 out of employment in Cleveland; 25,000 in Akron; 20,000 in Toledo and 5,000 in Canton. But Lima is absorbing all its unemployed because our Locomotive, Cigar, Refinery and smaller industries continue to show gains. The good, honest workman still has and will have a job. The agitator and drone are moving on; which are you?

There is always a job in Lima for girls in their teens, married women and widows. When a man moves to Lima he knows his wife and daughters can find employment, if they want to work.

Lima, the Wonder City—The commercial progress of Lima is one of the marvels of the state. In common with other institutions, the growth of The Lima News is largely dependent on the growth of Lima. And the growth of Lima rests on the faith and vision of its citizens. Lima will contribute to the benefit of its citizens in proportion to their faith in its future.

SAME OLD SEVEN AND SIX
No one should be deceived by a series of requests laid before Congress by Secretary David F. Houston, of the Treasury Department, for appropriations whose total is nearly five billion dollars, says the Cincinnati Enquirer. They are precisely what they are purported to be—the estimates of the various departmental heads and bureau chiefs, and bear an exaggerated relation toward the real necessities. Following an ancient, if it cannot be called a time-honored, custom, these various officials have asked not for what they needed in outright fashion, but for from 25 to 100 per cent more, expecting to bargain successfully with the appropriating committees thru making pretended concessions.

This practice has been aided and abetted by congressional financiers because it enabled them to report deceptive economies thru cutting out the deliberately inserted false estimates. Every two years has witnessed one of these sham battles and the rout of an army of strawstuffed raiders on the Treasury. Present indications are for another such campaign of cheat.

This dishonesty of method will not be ended until there is installed at Washington a responsible budget system of which the Chief Executive Officer of the Administration, the President of the United States, is the head. Under it no department should be allowed more than it asks for without accompanying legislation to secure the money required. This will break up the old plan of overestimating for several departments, cutting down the amounts ostensibly sought, and turning over the amounts thus ostentatiously recovered to another department secretly favored from the start.

As matters stand today the unofficial budget of Secretary Houston does not carry with it any meaning, and represents only a weary waste of white paper and ink. The power of shaping the fiscal policy is with the Congress entirely when, as a matter of responsibility for results, the executive branch should have had the initiative, with some limitations placed upon the legislative branch as to exceeding the honestly calculated requests for money. Hence, any claim in March for vast reductions from the tremendous total of the Houston figures should be well sprinkled with salt before being swallowed.

CANCELLING WAR DEBTS.

THE allied nations in Europe owe to the United States in round figures about ten billions of dollars, says The Dayton News. The matter of canceling these debts has been discussed publicly in some of the European countries, but not considered seriously in America. We were given to understand that if provision could be made to postpone the payment of interest on the war loans for a period of three or four years, at the expiration of that time France and England, Italy and Belgium would be financially fit to begin paying interest and a part of the principal. The argument has been heard frequently in England, that America should be willing to cancel Great Britain's debt to us, amounting to a little over four billion dollars as a contribution on the part of the United States to the world debt of its allies during the war. As a matter of fact, a very great proportion of this indebtedness was incurred before we entered the world war. The money thus borrowed was utilized by the allied powers to purchase munitions, provisions and other necessities which were required to keep the war machines going at top speed. It always has been one of the marvels of the financial world that Germany, with her tremendous expense account growing out of the war borrowed little if anything from neutral countries. It was necessary, of course, for Germany to purchase provisions wherever she could and whenever the British blockade was not sufficiently strong to prevent smuggling of food. The German financial system worked in perfect harmony and the a colossal national debt was piled up the war from the standpoint of Germany was financed by the people and the bankers themselves. This, however, was in keeping with the general plan of preparation which the Kaiser and his counsellors had conceived. At the outset it was believed sufficient food, raw materials and money had been provided for a war that was not expected to last many months.

The allied nations, on the other hand, caught unawares, had no time to shape a financial system to meet a tremendous emergency. It became necessary to arrange loans elsewhere. America, the gibraltar of the financial world, met the need. To say at this late day that these loans should be canceled, manifestly would be unjust to us, as well as reflecting no credit upon the nations which negotiated the huge accounts. The United States piled up a pretty good sized debt of its own in conducting its share of the war. It would be asking too much to say that we should assume the war debt of the universe simply because we came into the struggle after it had been in progress for more than two years. Moreover, it would affect the nation's financial program to a degree that might prove unsafe and dangerous.

THE IRISH TRUCE

WHILE rumors of negotiations between the English and the Irish governments looking toward a truce are vapory and indefinite, there is no doubt but that the proposition that a truce be declared has been made by the acting president of the Irish republic, and that Lloyd George has been more than willing to find some way out of the hideous situation in which his own short-sighted policy has plunged the empire, says the Ft. Wayne Journal-Gazette. One of the most dependable of the American correspondents now in London pretends to have information sufficiently reliable to justify him in stating the terms of the truce as proposed by the Irish. These provide that primarily there shall be no surrender of arms on the part of the Irish unless the English military forces and the "black and tans," many of the latter desperate criminals released from English prisons and turned loose with guns upon the Irish people, shall be withdrawn; that all political prisoners shall be immediately released; and that the Dail Eireann, including the Ulster delegates, shall be summoned at once to the attempt to reach a settlement. In the event the effort fails the truce is to end within twenty-four hours. There is more in this latter proposition than may appear upon the face.

Americans of intelligence recently in Ireland bring back the remarkable information that the unionists of Ireland, utterly without protection in the English courts or from the English militia, are accepting and availing themselves of the Sinn Fein officials for the protection of their lives and property. This protection has been afforded them just as freely as tho they had always been nationalists, and this has resulted, since the slaughtering of the Irish people began, in thousands of former unionists going over to the Sinn Fein. The hostility to Irish nationality, never strong outside of Belfast and Londonderry even in Ireland, has become a thing of the past outside the most bigoted circles of those two places. In no other country on the face of the earth would an opposition so unimportant, numerically, be given a moment's consideration. Carson has been completely discredited and has failed his own followers. Thus, there is every reason to believe that something might come from the proposed negotiations. But will the London ministry consent to the withdrawal of the more than a hundred thousand armed men, the tanks, the bombing planes, the machine guns, from the populous centers of the island?

MISS LIMA: "The defeated candidate has one consolation. He can reflect that a country with that little sense didn't deserve saving anyway."

AMERICAN LEGION BASKETEERS DEFEATED—MORE BALL PLAYERS INDICTED—CHURCH LEAGUE GAMES START AT 'Y' TONIGHT

FOUR WESTERN BALL PLAYERS INDICTED BY GRAND JURY

LOS ANGELES, Calif.—Arrest and arraignment expected Saturday of at least one of the four men indicted on charges of criminal conspiracy late Friday by the Los Angeles co grand jury, after an inquiry of two months' duration into charges of corruption in Pacific Coast League baseball games in the 1919 season.

That one was W. Baker ("Babe") Borton, former Vernon first baseman. The other three indicted were Harl V. Maggert, and W. G. Rumler, former Salt Lake outfielders, and Nathan Raymond, alleged gambler of Seattle, Washington.

The men are charged specifically with having conspired to "throw" games in the final Salt Lake-Vernon series in Los Angeles in the 1919 season, a felony punishable by prison on terms of not more than two years, fines of not more than $5,000 or both.

The grand jury's indictments cleared the Vernon team of 1919 of charges made by Borton that his team-mates joined him in subscribing to a $200,000 "pool," with which to "buy" enough games to win the pennant.

Borton, whose charges resulted in the investigation, made several "demands" for the inquiry before official action was taken. He contended it would clear him of charges of gambling which resulted in his suspension.

DEMPSEY MAY BOX GIBBONS IN TOLEDO

TOLEDO — A fifteen round boxing bout to a referee's decision between Jack Dempsey, world's heavyweight, and Tommy Gibbons, of St. Paul, is planned by Ad Thacher, according to a statement Thacher made today.

Thacher, the man who assisted Tex Rickard in bringing the Willard Dempsey match to Toledo a year ago last July, said he had signed Gibbons to a contract and was waiting to hear from Jack Kearns, manager of Dempsey.

It is proposed to stage the bout shortly after the first of the year, Thacher said.

13th May Hoodoo Ball Opening

CINCINNATI, O.—Fans who have been looking up the calendar, discover that the logical day for opening the 1921 major league baseball season, falls on April 12. They are wondering if the magnates will depart from the usual custom of opening on a Wednesday to duck this supposed hoodoo.

JUDGE LANDIS IS TO FLY PENNANT

CLEVELAND—Judge K. M. Landis, head of the new baseball commission, will officiate next summer at the raising of the first world's series pennant ever won by a Cleveland team, according to President Sanford, of the Cleveland Rotary Club.

Mr. Sanford, who just returned from Chicago, said Judge Landis has accepted President James C. Dunn's invitation to officiate.

NEW SCOUT CRUISER IS NAMED "CINCINNATI"

CINCINNATI.—Mayor John Galvin has been notified by Secretary of the Navy Daniels that the name "Cincinnati" has been assigned by him to one of the new scout cruisers being built in the navy yards at Tacoma, Washington. The former cruiser Cincinnati was scrapped recently.

The mayor is asked to select some "Cincinnati lady" to be sponsor at the launching of the vessel, which Mr. Daniels says will be ready for service July 1, 1922.

FIRST CHURCH GAMES ON TONIGHT

The first of a series of church league basket ball games will be played tonight at the "Y" with six teams, representing as many churches, participating.

Games will be played on each Saturday night throughout the season.

The first contest tonight will be staged between the First Reformed church quintet and the First Christian church basketeers. The Trinity five will play the Baptists and the Grace M. E. five will play the South Side Church of Christ, Scientist.

WAPAK LOSES MITCHELL IS ELECTED TO LEAD TEAM

In one of the hardest fought battles of the season Friday night, the Spencerville high school quintet won over Wapakoneta high by a score of 23 to 9.

The Wapakoneta players roughed it shortly after the game started and continued a "battle royal" until the final whistle. The boys are full of spirit and outside of their roughness, played a good game.

They were also handicapped by being recently vaccinated.

"Diggers" Weatherill, star forward of Spencerville, was kept covered during the greater part of the game and was kept from making his usual number of sensational plays.

MULLINGER AT CENTER

R. Mullinger, jumping at center, played good and made a credible showing. His brother, B. Mullinger, who was substituted in the last half, is a clean, fast player and shows the making of a good forward.

Pickard, Spencer's husky back guard, was worked to the limit in the game last night. He is fast and holds down the position he plays in a professional like way.

Capt. Stanley B. Post was the target of the Wapakoneta plays. At every chance they would bounce him to the floor and at the end of the game his rough treatment showed.

Shorty Miller, he has been playing at forward, is being made into a good player. He was switched from guard to forward, he now plays when Coach Van Natta took charge of the outfit.

Bill Barlow, sporting editor of the Lima News, refereed the game.

MAJORS AND MINORS ARE MEETING IN GOTHAM TODAY

By HENRY L. FARRELL.

(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

NEW YORK.—Restoration of the draft, an economical means of getting young blood into the major league veins, will be advocated here Saturday when the delegations of the majors and minors get together.

The session is stated as a conference on the new national agreement to succeed the one that was discarded sometime ago, but it will also act as the coronation of Judge K. M. Landis, the new dictator of baseball.

Garry Herrmann, who once held the job that has been enlarged for Judge Landis and who also penned the old national agreement, is here with his copy of the new agreement, that is said to put the minors on a 50-50 footing with the big-time flocks.

Unable to tip off his hand, the boss of the Cincinnati Reds, refused to open his document, but he intimated that the terms were so nice that the minors couldn't refuse to sign the new agreement, which is expected to cement the last breach in baseball.

A little matter of a hundred per cent increase in the price of "ivory on the foot," is thought to be the price bait that the majors will dangle before the minors.

The draft price of the old defunct National Agreement was $2,500. The majors, it is heard, are now ready to increase the rate per head to $5,000.

The American Association and the International League may baulk the plan to get back to the draft plan. They are about half the works of the minors and their attitude is causing the magnates of the big-time circuit most concern.

Raising ball players has become very profitable pastime since the cessation of the draft has been in effect and it may take a lot of talk about necessities in the baseball crisis to get the minors back into an agreement restoring the draft.

The winners will play Ohio North Wednesday night.

FROCKS THAT MAKE THE SEASON'S WARDROBE EQUAL TO ANY EMERGENCY

Designs for About-Town and Semi-Formal Wear Planned with Incredible Smartness—Momentous Decrees from Paris Heeded in Line, But Not Always Detail—

Moyen Age Influence Most Potent in Display of Latest Models—Low Waistline May Be Either Slightly Bloused or Straight, As Fancy Dictates—

Plaiting Still Recognized as One of the Season's Big Style Notes—Simplicity of Modes Emphasized by Their Daintiness.

By MAUDE HALL
THE well-equipped wardrobe is equal to any emergency, for the clothes which it contains are selected for their service, style and practical wearing qualities. Women who do their own dressmaking heed the momentous decrees issued from Paris as regards line, but are not so lavish when it comes to detail. Frock planned for all-round service do not affect exaggerated style notes, which, as every one knows, are only of passing interest.

Fried Mush and Kidney.

Left over porridge—whether wheat, cornmeal, or oatmeal, will make delicious fried mush. Turn it into baking powder tin, or a small loaf cake pan, in which it will "set" so as to slice nicely when turned out. Dredge the slices with flour and fry in hot fat. It may then be served alone, or as an accompaniment to fish, bacon or meat, or with a creamed fish or meat mixture poured on it instead of on toast.

In this case, fried lamb's kidneys and bacon are used to make a very tasty dish. Fry thin slices of bacon allowing one for each slice of fried mush. Split the kidneys and fry in the bacon fat, meanwhile keeping the mush and bacon very hot in the oven.

Lay a strip of bacon on each slice of mush and several pieces of kidney. If you have any left over mashed potatoes, heat over steam, beat very light and put on as a border.

Sausage and Apple.

Apples, served with sausage, act as a corrective, and aid greatly in digestion—a matter of importance to anyone who considers sausage "rich."

Peel, core and cut apples in $\frac{1}{2}$ inch slices. When sausage have been fried, drain them and put in the oven and fry the apple slices quickly in the centre of a small platter, with the apple rings around as a garnish.

An hour may be counted upon for cooking, a very delicious way to cook sausage and apple together is to do them in the casserole. Peel and core the apples and insert a sausage into the cavity. Put in a baking dish, pour in just enough water to keep from burning, put on the cover and bake.

Shirt Model designed for Home Dressmakers. Trial left to cut the neckband, collar, etc. Fold along the lengthwise grain to the back of the neckband. The pattern must all be laid on a material masculine appearance. Shirts, however, like dresses, have increased enormously in price and the housewife who must practise all-round economy will find that the model illustrated reduces shirt making to its lowest possible terms. There is a yoke at the back and the one-piece sleeves may be gathered to either straight or turn-back cuffs. The collar is removable and there are much pockets which may be omitted if desired. In medium-weight and collar. These sections of the shirt require 3 $\frac{1}{2}$ yards. The pattern must all be laid on a lengthwise thread of the material. The sleeve and front are cut from Now fold the remaining shirting in half and along the lengthwise fold place the back of the neckband. Arrange the yokes in the same way. Place the remaining sections with large "O" perforations on a lengthwise thread of the goods. Notch each piece carefully and indicate the "O" perforations lightly with a lead pencil.

Now to make the shirt, turn the front edge of front section under on double small "oo" perforations, then turn under on single small "o" perforations and stitch to position. Gather back section at upper edge and sew to yoke as notched. Join front section to yoke as notched. Face neckband, next, and sew to neck edge of shirt with notches, center-backs and front edges even.

Take the sleeve next and sew plain underneath slashed edge with notch and lower edges even. Fold plait over and stitch to position. Sew facing underneath remaining slashed edge as notched, turn over on the outside and stitch. Lap the plait over the facing and stitch straight across about $\frac{1}{2}$ inches below the pointed end. Turn the edge of slash having the facing underneath sleeve and stitch to position at lower edge. Adjust sleeve lapping armhole edges of front, yoke and back to line of small "O" perforations in sleeve, matching single large "O" and double small "oo" perforations, stretching armhole to fit sleeves. Turn upper edge of sleeve under $\frac{1}{4}$ inch and stitch to position. Close under-arm and sleeve seams as notched. Gather sleeve at lower edge, face either cuff and sew to lower edge of sleeve with edges even. Roll out over on the outside. Under-face pocket from upper edge of point to 1 inch below the small "o" perforations and turn point over on the outside on the perforation to form a pocket lap. Adjust pocket to position on left front of shirt with upper edge bearing indicating small "o" perforations.

Face collar and collarband, then sew collar to collarband. This is a safe pattern to use in making shirts intended as holiday gifts. A design in dark brown is long and straight fastening on the left side of the sweater upon which everyone seems to have been working for the past few months.

Fruits and flowers are featured in the beautiful centerpiece shown today. They are adapted to development in either all white or colors. The natural tones of the grape may be exquisitely reproduced in the first design, for it offers fine opportunity for the blending of rich dark shades of red, blue and green, with dashes of dull yellow here and there. The stems are worked in greenish brown. If silk or a material that does not roll easily be used for the background, it would add appreciably to the center-piece to develop the pattern in silk. A linen imitation linen background would take either silk or mercerized cotton. The leaves are done in out-line, the fruit in raised satin and the odd scallops in buttonhole stitches. The centerpiece is twenty-one inches in diameter.

NEW YORK—The stock market continued its downward course during Saturday's short session, "seasoned" as well as speculative shares, yielding to persistent pressure in the absence of buying power.

The tone of overnight advances, hearing upon values was again largely favorable to the short interest. Rallies of the representative type were heavy, losing 1 to 3 points and losses among secondary railroads were more extensive.

The bulk of the selling centered in oils, motors, steels, shipments and food and textile issues, American Woolen showing further weakness.

Conditions in the automobile industry were reflected in the passing of the Fisk Rubber Company dividend. The closing was weak. Sales approximated 350,000 shares.

Heavy offerings of oils, cancelling most gains made in Friday's rally. Steels, equipments, shipments and motors, also reacted. Royal Dutch, Mexican Petroleum, Norfolk and Western, Canadian Pacific, Union Pacific, Rock Island, New York Central, Crucible and Republic Steels and United Fruit comprised the weaker issues. A few nominal gains among specialties in the food and textile division were soon forfeited.

HEAVY SATURDAY BUYING IS ON

Christmas Shoppers Wear Santa Claus Faces in All Day Rush.

Wonderful December weather welcomed the Christmas shoppers at sunup Saturday, and early in the morning before the doors of many of the big stores were open a stream of buyers wearing Santa Claus faces and his ever entrancing smile, could be seen in the down town district.

The fact that the new boulevard lighting system will be operating tonight and that Street Superintendent Zartman had his men at work cleaning the crossings, will make the shopping tours of the Christmas buyers a happy work. Big stores at noon reported heavy buying all morning and predicted the biggest Saturday of the year. Heavy payrolls at many shops and the distribution of a quarter million dollars by the Christmas clubs of the various banks, have equipped the shoppers with cash a plenty at the time of the year they need cash.

brace of FIRE ALARMS; CHIMNEY TROUBLE ONLY

Fire department Saturday morning responded to two alarms. The first came in shortly before 8 o'clock and when firemen arrived they found that a chimney was ablaze, in 1316 E. Elm-st.

The second alarm summoned the fire department to 476 E. Union-st. The chimney became blocked and forced smoke into the house, causing residents in the neighborhood to believe the dwelling was afire.

PRODUCE REVIEW

(By SWIFT & CO.)

Fresh eggs are available in larger quantities, indicating that production has commenced. A continued increase in receipts is expected, with a tendency toward lower prices.

Butter has ruled lower on the leading markets of the country and prices paid for butterfat have been reduced. The supply of fresh butter is larger than for the corresponding week last year.

Receipts of poultry are not as heavy as expected, but this has been offset by lighter demand in the consuming centers. Carcass dressed poultry has been placed in storage for later use, and this has had a stabilizing effect on the market.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets.

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative.

No griping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth"—bad breath—dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver—constipation, you'll find quick, sure and pleasant results from one or two of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.

Thousands take them every night just to keep right. Try them 15c and 30c.
